

Map of operations Adelaide Brighton's national geographic spread, together with its higher exposure to the growing resources sector, provides the Company a unique competitive position in the Australian construction materials and lime sectors.

